we will continue our trek to Dingboche and Lobuche. You can see Nuptse, Lhotse, Cho Oyu, Makalu, Ama Dablam, and many other mountain peaks during the hike. Continuing the trek, we will hike to Gorakshep and walk alongside the serene Khumbu Glacier until we reach the Everest Base Camp. From here, you will be able to see the Khumbu Glacier, one of the deepest glaciers in the world, and which is located in Nepal. After the exploration, we will return to Gorakshep to spend the night. The next day, we will hike to Kala Patthar to see the glorious sunrise over the majestic Mount Everest and other peaks. We then retrace our trail back to Gorakshep and descend to Pheriche. We will then move to Tengboche, passing through lush juniper and rhododendron forests. Finally, the final stretch of our journey will lead us to Namche and Lukla, where we will board a flight bound for Kathmandu.

Note: The EBC trek begins with a scenic 35-minute flight to Lukla from Kathmandu during January, February, June, July, August, September, and December. However, we must drive to Manthali, Ramechhap, and board a 20-minute flight to Lukla in March, April, and October, November.

Everest Base Camp Trek Cost

The Everest Base Camp Trek Cost varies depending on your preference and the duration of the trek package. The average price of the expedition ranges between $995 and $9985. The standard itinerary at Outfitter Nepal will cost you $1,280. The factors that affect the cost of the Everest Base Camp trek are group size, accommodation, transportation, guides, porters, permits, services, trek duration, etc. Please check the price inclusion and exclusion for further details regarding the facilities and services you will receive during the trek.

How to Prepare for Everest Base Camp Trek

The route to the Everest Base Camp is categorized as a moderate-level trek suitable for trekkers of any age. However, the expedition can be challenging if you are not at an appropriate fitness level. So, it would help if you prepared yourself physically and mentally two to three months before starting this journey. During the preparation, you must indulge in gym workouts and diverse cardio activities to significantly enhance endurance and stamina. Similarly, incorporate yoga and swimming into your training for stability and flexibility. On the other hand, understand the challenges ahead, practice mindfulness, and set realistic expectations to prepare yourself mentally. By fusing these strategies, you can cultivate the resilience to triumph over the Everest Base Camp trek. In light of this, Outfitter Nepal also guarantees adequate days for acclimatization. Further, we ensure your safety and well-being during the expedition for an enhanced trek experience.

Is the Everest Base Camp Trek Suitable for You ?

The EBC Trek is doable and can be completed by people of any age group. However, the challenges you might face depend on your experience with trekking in high-altitude regions. If you have completed short treks like the Langtang Valley Trek or Poon Hill Trek, or any other week-long hike expedition in your country, it will be a plus point for you. On the other hand, if it is your first time, we recommend you prepare yourself physically and mentally. Further, for your convenience, our itinerary features adequate rest days and proper guidance by our staff members. In this trek, you will reach an elevation of over 5,000 meters and trek an average of seven hours daily. So, you must be in good physical condition to carry your essential belongings along the route without putting much strain on your body. However, if you want a more relaxed and comfortable trek experience, you can hire a porter to carry your luggage and essentials during the expedition.

Best time for Everest Base Camp Trek

The Everest Base Camp Trekking is doable throughout the year, depending on your experience and endurance level. Among the seasons in Nepal, spring and autumn are considered the best times/seasons for the EBC trek.

EBC Trek in Spring 2025, 2026

Spring includes the seasons of March, April, and May, characterized by suitable weather conditions for outdoor activities. During this month of the year, the weather and temple are stable, making trekking and mountaineering expeditions. The scenic views of the Clear skies and timid temperatures with less chance of snowfall and rainfall characterize autumn. The months of September, October, and November fall in this season. The weather is colder than spring, with winter winds reaching the Himalayas. On the other hand, you might experience occasional downpours if you are traveling in September. Regardless, you will experience clear blue skies with sunny days by the end of the month. The temperature around this time ranges between 11 to 20 degrees. Besides, similar to spring, the trails will be busy with travelers, and you will have plenty of company as you make your way to the heart of the Everest region.

Useful Information

Good to know before you travel

How Difficult is the Everest Base Camp Trek?

The Everest Base Camp Trek is a renowned expedition of Nepal. The difficulty level of the trek will depend on your experience. You can complete the expedition easily if you have completed hikes and tours in the high-altitude region. On the other hand, it can be quite challenging if you don't have any prior experience. Regardless, you can enjoy the trek with adequate physical training and guidance from our expert team members. Apart from the physical strain the trek might cause, you might also experience the effects of increasing elevation during the trek. This might lead to altitude sickness, a severe condition with symptoms including headache, fatigue, lightheadedness, nausea, and shortness of breath. However, you can avert or prevent the illness with adequate rest and a balanced diet. Check out our blog on how difficult Everest Base Camp Trek is.

Accommodation during the Everest Base Camp trek

Teahouses and lodges are popular means of accommodation in the Everest base camp trekking routes. These establishments offer simple travel lodging and meals for travelers. Over the years, the teahouses and hotel in the area have improved their facilities in places like Lukla, Phakding, and Namche. Most of them provide a spacious room with an attached bathroom at no additional cost. In general, the dining spaces of these teahouses are cozy; accommodation is provided on a twin-sharing or single-occupancy basis. Moreover, you will be provided with services like wi-fi, electricity, and a hot water shower for an additional charge.

Western cuisine, such as porridge, macaroni, pizza, oats, etc. Apart from the meals in the tea houses, we suggest you carry a few protein bars and dried fruits to boost your energy on the trails.

Note: The cost of food and Drinks during the EBC trek ranges from $5 to $20. However, the price might increase depending on the location and the type of accommodation you are staying in.

Visa Information

A Nepal visa can be obtained upon arrival at Tribhuvan International Airport and at any border entry point in the country. A visa is not required to enter Nepal for Indian and Chinese nationals. Additionally, the visa cost does not apply to the nationals of the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC) for 30 days. Apart from the international airport, you can obtain a visa from Birgunj, Kakadvitta, Nepalganj, Bhairahawa, kodari, Goddachowku, Nepal-China, and Nepal-India border. Also, you can apply for it online and obtain it from the nearest Diplomatic Mission or Nepal Embassy.

Cost for Nepal Visa

15 Days – 30 USD

30 Days – 50 USD

90 Days – 125 USD

Travel Insurance for EBC Trek

Although the Everest region of Nepal is a safe trek destination, you must prioritize the safety of your health and property. The unpredictable weather conditions in the high-altitude region and the risk of altitude sickness, injury, and accidents are all significant concerns while trekking in the Himalayas. In such cases, you will have to be given immediate medical attention or even rescued by means of a helicopter. So, having insurance ensures the arrangement of swift helicopter evacuation in case of emergencies. This will not only keep you safe and boost your morale during the trek but also enhance the overall trek experience.

Everest Base Camp Trek Packing List

Before you begin your exciting quest to Mount Everest's base camp, here is an equipment list of what you must pack for the trek.

Other Essentials

Reusable water bottle, Batteries, power bank, Whistle, Compass, Pocket knife, Camera.

Toiletry kits

Hydration bladder, Water purification tablets, Toilet paper, Wet wipes, Tissue paper, Hand sanitizers, Soap, Shampoo.

Note: You can buy these gears and equipment in your spare time. Our guide will assist you with recommending and purchasing the essentials required for the trek ahead. Thamel, the tourist hub of Kathmandu, offers a wide range of shops with trekking equipment and supplies at affordable prices.

Cost for Additional Baggage

When you are packing for the Everest Base Camp Trek, keep in mind that the maximum weight allowed for the flight to Lukla is 15kg, including the daypack and duffel bag. If your baggage exceeds the weight limit, you will have to pay an additional fee of $2 to $5 for each kilogram over the weight limit.

Permits for Everest Base Camp Trekking

To access the restricted areas during the EBC trek, you will need three types of permits: the Sagarmatha National Park Permit, Trekking Information Management System (TIMS), and Khumbu Pasang Lhamu municipality entrance card.

Cost for the permits

Our package covers the permits required for the trek. Here is a brief overview of the cost of these permits.

SAARC nationals: TIMS (NRS. 600), Khumbu Pasang Lhamu Rural Municipality Entrance Card (NRS. 2,000), Sagarmatha National Park permit (NRS. 1,500).

Foreign nationals: TIMS (NRS. 2,000), Khumbu Pasang Lhamu Rural Municipality Entrance Card (NRS. 2,000), Sagarmatha National Park permit (NRS. 1,500).

Internet & Wi-Fi availability during the EBC Trekking

The Everest Base Camp Trek stands out as a developed and well-facilitated route compared to other trekking trails in Nepal. En route, you will have access to electricity and internet services at your teahouses and lodges. You must note that you will be charged an additional amount for using these services for a single device. While some teahouses provide these services for free, establishments at higher altitudes may incorporate these rules.

Internet cost in the Everest region

Airlink is a popular Internet service provider in the Everest region. It was established in 2016 to provide internet access to remote areas of Nepal. You can enjoy Airlink wi-fi en route or in teahouses for a specific price. The cost for the internet pack, valid for 24 hours, is NRS. 700, while for 48 hours, it's around NRS. 1200. For the price, the internet service is reliable and strong.

Extra Expenses during the EBC Trekking

In regards to the additional cost incurred during the expedition, a budget of approximately USD to 200-300 excluding tips is adequate for purchasing snacks and beverages. However, keep in mind that the amount of extra expenses will differ depending on your spending preferences and choices related to buying alcoholic beverages, souvenirs and indulging in other activities.

Tipping During Your Everest trekking

Tipping is customary to express your gratitude to guides and porters during Mount Everest Base Camp Trekking. It is a good practice for travelers to set aside 15% of their total trek cost to tip the staff members.

How much does tipping cost?

The 15% of the total trip cost must be divided between the porter and the guide. If the package price is $ 1,575, each of our client
